

Production of colored oriented strand board

Abstract

5

A process for producing colored oriented strand board, which comprises the wood strands which serve as a base material for oriented strand board being contacted, before or after drying, with a liquid colorant preparation, then conventionally
 10 resinated, and formed into three-layered mats and these three-layered mats being hot-pressed into board having a center layer and two outside layers.

15

20

25

30

35

40

45